MBF071701 . . . . . NEW YORK BUREAU

VICTIMS OF HELL

BERDYMAN, MLA.: Blanket-covered bodies of prisoners lie on ground outside barracks awaiting transfer to the morgue after a fire at the Berrydale prison camp late July 16. Rioting convicts set fire to the wooden barracks, touching off an inferno that killed 37 of them. Only 14 men escaped alive, and six of them were severely burned.

CREDIT (U.P. WIREPHOTO) 7/17/67 -dg-

2-7-61

2 of 19